LOCAL JOTTINGS

Wedding Bells.

CRAWFORD-WELCH

A pretty home wedding estimated yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mr.

Mr. Al Morrel, when Miss Alberta
Welch became the bride of Mr.

Jack Crawford. Both the young people are well and the bride is a native of Bridgeport.

The wedding knot was tied by R. V. S.
Logue, the ring ceremony may be seen presented.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford left for Alberta, Canada to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Langdon on their wedding anniversary. The best wishes of many of their friends go with them.—Bridgeport Republican.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford are well known in Strathmore and district.

Strathmore 500 Club

The above club (The Sohio), held their first Party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Walkerville on Tuesday evening, the 16th inst. The enjoyment was great. Mrs. Alcock was the Ladies Prize and Mr. J. E. McAdams, the Gentle Prize.

Annual Parish Meeting

The annual meeting of the Parish Council of St. Michael and All Angels Church was held on Sunday after the service.

Reports were presented by the officers of the Church which were considered satisfactory considering the state of affairs in the country.

The Vicar gave a resume of the work done during the past year. Mr. F.

R. Lilly was re-elected people's warden and Mr. Parrott was elected Vicar's warden.

Mr. and Mrs. Langdon were appointed lay delegates to the Synod.

A vote of thanks was rendered the organ and choir for their services during the year, and also a vote of thanks to the Ladies' Guild for the excellent work they had done in connection with church affairs.

Remanded on Serious Charge

At the R.N.W.M.P. Barracks on Monday January 16th, before Justice of the Peace, Lamberton, Mrs. Jim

Schultz, of near Cheadle, was sworn on the information and complaint of J. W. Parrott, of Cheadle, that she did, wilfully and with intent to injure, complained at J. W. Parrott with a letter, contrary to Section 264,

Subsection C, of the Criminal Code of Canada.

Constable Smith, R.N.W.M.P.,

asked for a remand until Saturday

January 20th, which was granted.

(Mrs. Schultz being taken in custody to Calgary to await the preliminary hearing.)

Pte. Peat and Trooper Jerrett

The advent of these two returned wounded soldiers should prove interesting and their entertainment in the Methodist Church on Tuesday Jan. 23rd promises excellent diversion.

Their programme includes the story of Pte. Peat's thrilling experiences on the Battlefields of France and Belgium. "Humour and Anecdote of the Trenches", also character sketches, song and comedy in which, doubtless, Trooper Jerrett—who was a well known London entertainer before he donned the Khaki—will sus-tain his popularity. These young men have given their services as entertainers for three months without charge for the benefit of Red Cross Funds. They are now supporting themselves by their efforts instead of allowing themselves to be a tax on the country, and they are remembering their wounded comrades by giving 20 per cent of the net proceeds of each entertainment to the Red Cross work of each town that supports them, and also giving to the Red Cross work of Edmonton Branch which guarantees and rewards them for their services. A bumper house should greet them.

Orange Valley Red Cross

The weekly meeting of the Orange Valley Red Cross was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W.
Ward, Orange Valley, on Saturday afternoon, the afternoon was spent in sewing, during which the house served a creamy dinner.

Meetings arranged as follows :
Jan. 17th, at the home of Mrs.
Ward.

Jan. 24th, at the home of Mrs. S.
Phelps.

Jan. 31st, at the home of Mrs. Townson.

Ladies interested and wishing to join are invited to attend these meetings. The membership fee is 10 cents per month.

Officers Installed

Mr. J. E. Luck, one of the officers of the Strathmore Branch of the R.N.W.M.P., took place in the Masonic Hall, Thursday the 13th. District Deputy Tom Cope-thwaite installed the new officers and complected staff of installing officers and performed the ceremony of refreshments. We were invited to witness the ceremony.

The new officers are : Mr. J. E. Luck, J. P. G. L. Dodge, N.

F. S. Langdon, Mr. V. H. M. M.

F. S. Langdon, Mr. V. H. M. M.

Chaplin, Mr. E. Luck, R. S. C. Riggs,

Warden, C. Reed, Lt.

An Omission

We got called over the coils on the Council meeting on Tuesday regarding the 2nd. This was in connection with the application of Mr. J. W. Parrott.

As we did not receive the complaint of Mr. Parrott, we did not call him in.

As far as we are concerned we have no objection to any meetings have been held. We do not object to any of what has been said and done.

If we were to do so, we would have to call him in and have to read a comic supplement. It is quite possible that we are not in the habit of calling up meetings—Council or otherwise on these occasions.

BUY AN IRRIGATED FARM

FROM THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

BECAUSE

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall and insures good crops, not occasionally, but EVERY YEAR.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the most valuable forage crop, and the most valuable for stock feeding and mixed farming.

Irrigation makes intensive farming and close settlement, with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation, the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation, is no longer an experiment, the year 1916 having absolutely demonstrated its value wherever introduced.

You can get irrigated land at prices ranging from $35 to $75 per acre, with twenty years payable in 10% interest, with a principal payment at the end of first or second year and a principal payment at the end of the third year.

Assistance is given in supplying stock in irrigation districts.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record. Get

Jack Frost Defied in Smart Hat and Coat Sets

DO MATTER how great the holiday, feminine minds are always interested in fashion, especially if the fashions are shown on young models.

The little pink coat proves that individual touches can be very successfully introduced on youngsters' garments. In this instance the material has been cut to form loose panels, which suggest a cape or, rather, segments of a cape. The line is emphasized by a band of gray fur. The same fur is used to form the collar and buttons. Gray fur is also used on the cunning bonnet of pink velvet which carries out the edict that hats and coats should match in color, if not in materials, this season. Three ostrich tips give the finishing touch to the bonnet.

Velvet is just as modish for kiddies' coats as for coats for grown-ups. Dark blue velvet is very well tailored in making a coat with a deep fur collar to which the matching hat is attached. Fur buttons add a unique touch to the garment, while bands of beaver finish the collar and cuffs. The rolled-brim blue velvet hat is also trimmed with fur to match the treatment of the coat.

The charm of the biscuit-colored broadcloth coat lies in the cut of the garment. The back and cape are in one piece. A band of beaver outlines the cape in front to give it a trim effect. The body is of broadcloth to match the coat. Its ruffled hem is button-holed. Once again the fur band is brought into service.

Can't you imagine the joy any little girl would experience if dressed in a hat, coat and muff to match? Especially if the hat were of the cunning, close-fitting variety of the blue broadcloth one here shown, and the coat were made with the much-talked-of long-waisted effect and trimmed with fur. The broadcloth muff is quite a feature and could be copied by the clever mother.

Broadcloth, which is a favorite material for children's coats, has been chosen in a shade of light blue for a model. The deep cape is not only a style feature, but is practical in that it gives additional warmth to the wearer. Fur buttons and a fur collar increase the wintry appearance of the garment. The hat is of light blue felt, trimmed with an embroidered fold of Georgette crepe and with fur balls.
